The exchange yesterday decided that as cold weather would soon make outdoor sales undesirable, to encourage all real estate sales on the floor of the exchange at previously announced hours, or on certain days in the week. Several cases were reported of large sales recently announced at different points at the same hour, thus dividing the number of agents and representatives of investors who could attend either, and lessening the competitive bidding.

The Real Estate Exchange will not limit its activities to matters affecting only agents of property owners, but will take part in civic matters affecting a meeting with the Administrative service of the city of Richmond upon the most modern and efficient basis.
